- I. Degree, Certificates or Concentration or Unit in Support of: Kinesiology/Dance (part of core curriculum and other majors): classroom and web-based.

- II. Expected Program/Unit Learning Outcomes: Students who take Kinesiology/Dance courses in order to complete Associate Degree requirements at San Antonio College or transfer to a four-year college or university program will be able to:
 1. Demonstrate comprehension of how the five components of physical fitness (cardiorespiratory endurance, muscle strength, muscle endurance, flexibility and body composition) can contribute to a healthy lifestyle and minimize the development of chronic disease.
 2. Demonstrate, through various forms of physical fitness activities, the levels of improvement that can be achieved through physical fitness programs.
 3. Demonstrate mastery of rules, techniques and strategies involved in developing competency for lifetime sports and skills.
 4. Demonstrate comprehension of dance skills necessary for social dancing, physical fitness and professional development.

- III. Measures of Program/Unit Learning Outcomes:
 - Student retention
 - Comprehensive Final Examination
 - Student surveys
 - Syllabus Audit
 - Participation in physical fitness testing:
 - Blood pressure
 - Vital capacity (VO₂)

Body fat analysis (fat mass and per-cent body fat)
Skin fold test
Body measurements
Harvard Step Test
Cooper's Aerobic fitness Test
Strength Ratio Test
Timed Activities

Participation in skill improvement testing:

Sport specific skill tests

Participation in choreographed dance routines

A. To ensure that our program/unit reaches these goals, our faculty members pursue the following outcomes, each expressing what our students should know and be able to do.

- Students will be able to plan and program physical fitness activities based on proper levels of frequency, intensity and duration.
- Students will be able to pursue the conduct of lifetime skills and sports based on knowledge of rules, skills and strategies.
- Students will be able to demonstrate dance techniques for social, professional and fitness pursuits.

B. To achieve these program/unit outcomes, faculty members employ the following strategies:

- Develop appropriate physical fitness routines that allow students to improve physical fitness levels.
- Develop appropriate progression of movement patterns, for specific skills, to correct and improve motor skills.
- Develop appropriate patterns of dance for fitness, social and professional purposes.
- Provide a sound theoretical base for all activities that allow students to understand the concepts inherent in physical fitness, motor skills, sports and dance.

Five Year Review Assessments:

Five Year Review Assessments and academic related recommendations were addressed in this document by adding more internet courses and varying teaching strategies beyond lecture and activity. Faculty and student involvement in community events, student observation of local school programs, visits by local schools to the Kinesiology/Dance department and student and faculty attendance at conventions were encouraged and sponsored.
