What Are the Ways to Pay for College?

There are numerous ways to pay for college. Some are eligibility based, while others, such as the installment plan, are available to the majority of students.

- Ways to pay for college:

- $ Out of Pocket

- $ Waivers & Exemptions

- $ Financial Aid

- Grants

- Loans

- Work Study

- $ Scholarships

Paying Out of Pocket

- You always have the option of paying out of pocket for college using cash, check, credit card, or by setting up the installment plan.
- Cash payment is available through each of the Alamo Colleges District Business (Bursar) offices. Check, credit card and installment plan payments are available online through ACES.

- If you are paying with a check, here are some guidelines to keep in mind, click here.

Waivers and Exemptions

- Financial assistance is not limited to financial need. Some financial aid programs are based on your field of study or major, military service, disability, or place of employment. The College for All Texans website is a great resource for learning about the many types of financial aid available.
- If you will be using a waiver or exemption to pay for college, please know the following:
 - $ You are responsible for applying for their waiver and/or exemption and ensuring that it has been applied towards your tuition and fees for the current semester.
 - $ You are responsible for payment of tuition and fees not covered by the waiver or exemption, and are subject to late payment penalties and late registration charges if tuition and fees are not paid.

What is Federal Student Aid?

- Financial aid is federal student assistance from the U.S. Department of Education and is the largest source of aid in America, providing over $150 billion in grants, work-study, and federal loans for students attending colleges or universities.

- Financial aid comes in three basic types:

- $ Grants
- $ Loans
- $ Work-study

- Any or all of these may be combined in a financial aid package to help pay for educational expenses.

How to Apply

In order to see if you qualify for financial aid, you must fill out an online application called FAFSA...the Free Application for Federal Student Aid.

“Hooray FAFSA”

Click on video to watch!

$$ FAFSA – (Free Application for Federal Student Aid) $$

- FAFSA is the first step to apply for federal aid such as grants, loans, and work-study. The information you provide will help determine if you are eligible for an award. The college you list on your FAFSA will in turn use the information to determine your award or eligibility for other state aid programs.
- It is highly recommended you complete a FAFSA as early as possible. Many student aid opportunities require a FAFSA to be on file for the student. The FAFSA is available and must be completed every year beginning October 1.

Grants

What are grants?

- A grant is a form of financial aid based on the need of the student, which does not have to be repaid. Federal Pell Grants are the most common, but there are state and other federal grants students are automatically considered for based on your FAFSA information.
- For Federal Pell Grants, a student's need is calculated by the U.S. Department of Education and is shown to the student as their EFC (expected family contribution) number.
- Pell Grant funds are awarded once per semester (fall, spring, and summer). Summer awards require a separate summer aid application through the financial aid offices.
- Note: The Title IV Consolidation Appropriation Act of 2012 limits the amount of Federal Pell Grant eligibility to six years for all recipients. For more information, click here.

For more information on Federal Pell Grants, click here.

*Students who withdraw from courses may be required to repay.

Loans

Loans are different from Grants in that the student is required to pay back any money borrowed. A Federal Direct Loan is available to students who are eligible and demonstrate unmet financial need.

To be eligible for a Direct Student Loan you must:

- Complete a FAFSA application
- Be enrolled in at least 6 college credit hours
- Be pursuing an Associate's Degree, Certificate, or Transfer Program
- Be making satisfactory academic progress (SAP)
 - § A 2.0 Grade Point Average or above
 - § A 67% completion rate between hours attempted & hours you have actually completed
 - § No more than 99 attempted hours of college level courses

Loans

- Normal processing time for Direct Loan applications is about 6 weeks. Please plan for out of pocket payment if processing will not be completed by payment deadlines.
- Borrowing funds is serious business and should be considered carefully. Students who do not pay their loans back will fall into default. Students falling into default become ineligible to receive future federal and some state aid until the default status is cleared.
- To find a complete list of steps needed to apply for a Student Direct Loan visit the Financial Aid office at your Alamo College, or click here to visit the Student Financial Aid webpage.

Federal Work-Study

The Federal Work-Study Program is a financial need-based program that provides funds earned through part-time employment.

How do I know if I qualify for the Federal Work Study program?

- To qualify students must have completed a FAFSA (Free Application for Federal Student Aid).
- You will see Federal Work Study as part of your award in ACES. If you do not, you may still be eligible. Please contact your college's Financial Aid Office.

What are the benefits of working under the Federal Work Study Program?

- Students who work under the Federal Work Study program are better able to find a job on campus and design a schedule that compliments their class schedule and study needs.

Scholarships

Another type of financial funding available for Alamo Colleges District students is scholarships!

Alamo Colleges Foundation

- The Alamo Colleges Foundation provides scholarships to help Alamo College students along their educational journey. To learn more about the Alamo Colleges Foundation Scholarship, click here
- The Alamo Colleges Foundation application requires students to write three (3) essays. Each of these essays should be no longer than two-hundred and fifty (250) words and are required to complete the application. It is recommended that you visit the scholarship website to view the essay questions and writing tips.

Is My Scholarship Too Good To Be True?

- As long as you work directly with your college financial aid office, the federal or state government and reputable organizations, you need not worry if your offer of funds is legitimate.
- Unfortunately, scholarship and other financial aid scams do exist. The Federal Trade Commission provides Consumer Information on Scholarship and Financial Aid Scams

How Do I Check My Financial Aid Status?

Avoid the line...go online!

- By using the START HERE tab in ACES, Alamo Colleges District students can monitor the status of their financial aid application and processing and award details.
- In addition, the ACES MyPage tab includes Financial Aid Requirements and Financial Aid Award boxes that can help admitted students check:
 - $ Satisfactory Academic Progress
 - $ Award Summary
 - $ Account Summary
 - $ Unsatisfied Requirements
 - $ Missing Documents

How Do I Keep My Financial Aid?

- If you are awarded financial aid, it is extremely important for you to understand your responsibilities in keeping your financial award.
- Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) is a federal requirement students must meet to receive both federal and state financial aid.
- A student who is meeting SAP will have:
 - $ A 2.0 Grade Point Average or above
 - $ A 67% completion rate between hours attempted & hours you have actually completed
 - $ No more than 99 attempted hours of college level courses
- Please keep in mind, your SAP will determine whether or not you are eligible to receive financial aid.
