Turabian Style:

In-text Citations and List of References

Based upon Kate Turabian's A Manual for Writers of Term Papers, Theses, and Dissertations, 7th ed., 2007. Note: Like the Chicago Manual of Style on which it is based, Turabian offers those in the natural and social sciences the option of using an author-date system with notes and parenthetical references.

Use the first note form the first time the work is cited in your paper. Use an abbreviated form for subsequent citations:

- Use Ibid. to show you are citing from the same source as the previous reference. If you are citing from a different page in the same source, add a page number: Ibid., 68.
- If you repeat a reference after using one or more other references, use an abbreviated form: Habib, Literary Criticism, 201
- List authors’ names in the same order as they’re listed on the work you’re citing. If there are more than four authors, list the first author and replace the other authors’ names with the abbreviation et al.
- Authors are listed with the last name first. If a work does not have an author, start the citation with the work’s title.
