

DO YOU KNOW....

No One has the Right to Harm You or to make you feel Uncomfortable

Message from the Alamo Colleges:

The Alamo Colleges is committed to providing a supportive learning environment and to fostering, safe, healthy relationships among our students.

We highly recommend you complete Haven: Understanding Sexual Assault, an online survey and course addressing critical life skills. Over half a million college students across the country will join you in completing such educational programs designed to keep you and our colleges safe.

It is our sincere desire that Haven and other prevention activities regarding dating violence, domestic violence, sexual assault, and stalking will empower you to make well-informed decisions about issues that affect your college years and beyond.

Haven Instructions:

1. Always sign in through your ACES at aces.alamo.edu
2. Look for the Alamo Cares box on the Student tab and read the important message before accessing the course
3. Click on the link provided, and complete the confidential pre-survey at the start of the course
4. The exam at the end of the course is required to document your completion, but the score is not recorded and will not impact you in any way
5. Shortly after spring break, you will receive a reminder email to complete a brief and confidential Post-Survey to assess students' attitudes and behaviors towards dating violence, domestic violence, sexual assault, and stalking
